- To All Precious RIC Graduates
- On this extraordinary opportunity, I would like to congratulate you all with my deepest sincerity and humbly take you to reminisce and appreciate all of the stories, friendships, requirements, or even obstacles you have been through. From now on, you are turning to the next station of your life, and your journey is just starting. It is the time to you and your family satisfied with this moment.
- Firstly, BE PREPARED! Please remember that this world is unlimited, so do you. You might be wondered how completely crucial of our globalized connected world is, and all of your grades received from the university is only your foundation. Also, developing yourselves, skills, creativity and abilities is the great powerful weapon to overcome the obstacles ahead in the near future. With your fully multi-cultural potentials, you will be overwhelmingly expected to be in the front row and to navigate others if having opportunities.
- Second, BE STRONG! Because of the era of innovation and disruption which we inhabit on, learning from mistake is the thing that you have to confront, accept, and change to the better as rapid as you can.

- Someone once said that “There is no elevator to success, you have to take the stairs.” This is the truth of our lives. Therefore, make a commitment to do something that you truly love, and build a structure of behaviours that will carry you through during the difficult times. You would be allowed to feel depressed but not forever.
- Third, BE INSPIRED! Passion and motivation are like the wonderful flowers, if you do not look after them, they will definitely die in one day. Then, let’s make yourselves inspired by everything you have encountered. Follow your passion until you tested them with reality. Additionally, please note that the dreams without goals are just dreams.
- Finally, these are the minor suggestions from me to help you live in our enormous world without edge of the horizon. It is, consequently, my earnest and sincerest hope that every one of you will achieve all the dreams that you have. I wish you all the best, healthiest, wealthiest, happiest, and luckiest person in the world. And again, congratulations!
