To All Precious RIC Graduates,

On this extraordinary occasion, I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to each and every one of you. I humbly invite you to reflect upon and appreciate the stories, friendships, challenges, and obstacles you have encountered on your journey. As you transition to the next phase of your life, remember that this is just the beginning, and it's a moment for you and your families to cherish.

First and foremost, BE PREPARED! Please keep in mind that our world knows no bounds, and neither do you. You might be wondering how vital our interconnected globalized world is, and the grades you've earned at the university represent only the foundation. It's crucial to continuously develop your skills, creativity, and abilities. These are powerful tools that will help you overcome the challenges that lie ahead. With your multicultural potential, you are expected to be at the forefront and guide others when opportunities arise.

Second, BE STRONG! In this era of innovation and disruption, learning from your mistakes is a necessity. You must confront, accept, and adapt to improve as swiftly as possible. As someone once said, "There is no elevator to success; you have to take the stairs." This holds true in our lives. Make a commitment to pursue your true passions and build a framework of behaviors that will sustain you during tough times. It's okay to shed tears, but remember that they should not last forever.

Third, BE INSPIRED! Passion and motivation are like trees; if you don't nurture them, they will wither away. Let the challenges you've faced be a source of inspiration. Follow your passions and test them against the reality you encounter. Additionally, remember that dreams without goals are merely dreams.

In conclusion, these are my modest suggestions to help you navigate our vast world. It is my sincere and heartfelt hope that each of you will achieve the dreams you've set for yourselves. I wish you all the best, including good health, prosperity, and happiness. Once again, congratulations to each one of you.

Sincerely,
